Candidate?

Nixon Seeking 'Best Man'

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, apparently detecting growing sentiment that he should run again for president, says he is "willing to do everything necessary" to see to it the Republicans nominate their most popular and best qualified man this fall.

He insists there has been no change in his position that he is not a candidate, but it was his first indication that events might put him in this year's race.

"I will make any decisions in the future," he said in an interview, "based on my primary conviction that it is vital to get new leadership for this country and that the Republican party must nominate its strongest man."

"I will say this—and I haven't said it before—I will make any sacrifice to see that that is done."

The former vice president, who is 51 years old today, became a partner Jan. 1 in a New York law firm now named Nixon, Mudge, Rose, Guthrie & Alexander.

"It is a lucrative position for me," he said, "and some believe I wouldn't take any more risks. That's bunk."

Interviewed in his office, Nixon said:

"I believe that any man who has become a public figure belongs to the public and as long as they want him to lead, to lead. But leadership doesn't always involve being a candidate."

"I feel that having been the (Republican) candidate in 1960 and having received the votes of more than 34 million people, I have a responsibility to them. I have to judge what that responsibility is and how to meet it."

"I also feel the Republican party has an obligation to nominate its strongest candidate and one who would make the best president—and I believe the two go together; that the man best qualified for president would also make the best candidate."

"I have thought that the best way to serve that end would be by not getting into the scramble myself, but by talking about issues and attempting to give leadership in developing a program against the present administration and for a Republican alternative."

"I've been around this track," he said. "I know what the presidency requires and what the campaign requires."

"Meanwhile I'm staying, not on the sidelines, but in the thick of the battle—a blocking back, you might say, or to use a hockey term, the one who gives the assist. You know you get just as much credit for the assist as you do for the goal."

Atomic Energy Plants Eye Cutback Plans

By The Associated Press
Officials of five atomic energy commission plants generally took a wait-and-see attitude today as to how a government-ordered nuclear production cutback will affect their operations and employees.

The four plants are at Hanford, Wash., which will shut down three of its nine plutonium-producing reactors; near Aiken, S. C., where the Savannah River Plant, Paducah, Ky., and near Portsmouth, Ohio, where production of enriched uranium at each will be trimmed by about 25 per cent.

Of the total 2,900 jobs that will be affected at the five plants, about 2,000 are at Hanford, which employs 3,300; about 500 are at the Savannah River Plant, which employs 6,500; and about 400 are at the three gaseous-diffusion uranium plants.

A spokesman for the Portsmouth Area Plant said, "We cannot at this time say precisely how a reduction of 25 per cent of U-235 will be accomplished within the three-plant (gaseous) diffusion complex or exactly how employment reductions will affect each plant."

The Oak Ridge Plant where employment has decreased by more than 1,400 in the last four-year period, now has about 2,600 workers. The Portsmouth Area Plant employs 1,350—with an annual payroll of about $11 million.

Tunisia To Give China Recognition

TUNIS (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Tunis today to collect the first dividend of his African tour — Tunisia's recognition of the Peking regime.

Chou flew here from Tirana, the Albanian capital.

He will confer with President Habib Bourguiba later today.

Chou interrupted his tour of Africa nine days ago to visit Albania, Red China's only ally in Communist Europe. He will spend two days in Tunisia, then go to Ghana, Mali, Guinea and East Africa.

Red China and Tunisia announced jointly on Dec. 27 that Tunisia would establish diplomatic relations with Peking when Chou came to Tunis.

Tunisia's recognition will boost to 12 the number of Red Chinese diplomatic missions in Africa. At present 15 African governments recognize the Nationalist Chinese government.

Western diplomats do not expect any radical change in Tunisia's attitude, which generally has been pro-Western and particularly pro-American. U.S. aid to Tunisia averages about $60 million a year.

Tunisia's plan to recognize Red China is explained as "political realism" on the part of

Rips 'Tricky Talk' on Spending

Barry Blasts President for 'Hate Theme' In Message

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater accused President Johnson today of unwittingly enlisting in a leftist attack on American conservatives by charging that an atmosphere of hate was behind the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Goldwater called it "that hate theme" and said it is the "most overdone, the most untruthful attack in the history of this country."

The Arizona senator, campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, said he "was sorry to see that Mr. Johnson felt he had to resurrect the hate theme in referring to President Kennedy's assassination" in the State of the Union message Wednesday.

He said that is the theme stressed by Communists and radical columnists.

Goldwater also accused Johnson of tricky talk on federal spending.

"This Congress is surely economy minded," he said. "His administration is not."

In a three-page critique of Johnson's message to Congress, he said the administration budget estimate of $97.9 billion actually means a spending increase of several billion dollars.

"The trick is that President Johnson is using the requested estimated figures of the Kennedy budget rather than the figures actually authorized by Congress," Goldwater said.

The Arizona senator said actual spending during the current fiscal year will total about $95 billion dollars. He said Congress has voted obligatory authority for about $101 billion, so Johnson's request for $103.8 billion also is several billion dollars over the figure for the year ending next June 30.

Dealing with the Kennedy assassination comments, Goldwater said "to simply say that it was an act of hate is an attempt to obscure the real issue."

He told a news conference

LBJ To Ask Military Observation Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is drafting a proposal for a system of international military observation posts to be set up on both sides of the Iron Curtain in Europe as a safeguard against surprise attack.

It is understood officials are thinking about proposing 20 to 30 posts on each side at key transportation centers where unusual military activity by either Soviet or U.S. forces might be detected.

President Johnson announced in his State of the Union message Wednesday that "we shall make new proposals" on disarmament issues when the 17-nation disarmament conference reopens negotiations at Geneva in two weeks.

Work is going forward on the proposals in the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency under the immediate direction of William C. Foster, agency director. He is expected to head the U.S. delegation in the new round of negotiations beginning Jan. 21.

Officials have said the U.S. proposals will deal with familiar issues in new ways which they hope will enlarge the possibility of agreement with the Soviet Union.

Meanwhile, disarmament experts of the United States, Britain, Canada, and Italy are un-

Leetonia Board OK's 1964 Funds

LEETONIA — Appropriation of funds for 1964 totaling $422,155.51 in the general fund was approved when the Board of Education met Wednesday at Orchard Hill School. Last year's appropriation for the general fund was $416,455.99.

In other business, members discussed the possibility of annexing Orchard Hill School property into the village. Dr. Paul Beaver will investigate the situation. The school is at the north edge of town.

Upon the recommendation of Victor Wood, superintendent, the board adopted a teacher salary schedule, effective Jan. 1. The starting salary for a person with a bachelor's degree and not experience is $4,300. The maximum salary for a person with master's degree is $6,390.

Life insurance, fire and extended coverage were discussed. Forms had been sent to different companies but replies had not been received by meeting time. A special meeting was set up for either noon or evening Wednesday to award contracts.

Board members agreed to include bond instruments in the all-risk policy carried by the board for all movable material. Parents may purchase this insurance for private instruments at an extremely low rate.

The purchase of an electricity and electronics teaching material machine was approved.

Wood suggested that board members send letters of thanks to the Washingtonville Ruritan Club for contributing a flag pole to Washingtonville School.

Mrs. Charles Gause, clerk, was given permission to attend the annual Ohio Workshop for Ohio School Business Officials and Clerks from Feb. 4 to 7 at Columbus.

Bills amounting to $1,598.52 for December were approved for payment.

Next regular meeting is Feb. 12.

Hope Fades for 9 On Missing Plane

HONOLULU (AP)—Hope faded today for the survival of nine men lost on a missing Air Force transport plane. Their fate remained a mystery as a massive search drew toward a close.

The Air Force and Navy had been involved since last Thursday in what they called the greatest search effort ever in the Pacific.

Sixty-nine aircraft and three Navy ships scanned 600,000 square miles of ocean between Hawaii and Wake Island without finding any trace of the big C124 plane or its eight Air Force crewmen and a Navy passenger, who was escorting the body of another Navy man home.

The search was down to 11 planes and three ships today. The missing plane was on a flight from Japan to Hawaii via Wake Island.

Senate Unit Approves Two Tax Bill Riders

Sen. Russell Warns Of All-Out Fight On Rights Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Congress pressed by President Johnson to cut taxes, enact civil rights legislation and war on poverty is unlimbering slowly.

In a 41-minute State of the Union speech interrupted a record 80 times by applause, Johnson told the legislators Wednesday the nation can move forward under a new $97.9 billion budget to provide the greatest federal impetus to social welfare in history.

Reaction to the President's pledge of less spending and fewer federal employees was generally favorable. But it was tinged with bipartisan skepticism that the series of health, education, housing and job training programs he proposed could be carried out under a reduced budget.

Several Republicans predicted there would be a wide "performance gap" between what the President asked and Congress produces.

Urged by Johnson to move expeditiously, the Senate Finance Committee stepped up slightly the ponderous pace of its consideration of the House-passed $11 billion tax cut the President said is needed now "to keep the country moving."

It approved two provisions: a reduction in corporate rates from the current top of 52 per cent to 50 per cent for 1964 and to 48 per cent in 1965; a minimum standard deduction of $200 for the taxpayer plus $100 for each exemption including himself.

But March 1 appears a better bet for completion of congressional action than the Feb. 1 date he spoke of.

The House Rules Committee already had scheduled a start of hearings today on the civil rights bill Johnson said poses a "moral issue."

The measure probably will reach the House floor early would send it to the Senate, where it would have to await disposition of the tax bill.

Miner Trapped Underground 27 Hours Rescued

MACKAY, Idaho (AP)—Stanley Johnson, a miner trapped for 27 hours in a 12-by 6-foot cubicle, 1,158 feet underground, was rescued Wednesday.

He was cold, tired and a little weak—the temperature in the underground cell was around 40 degrees—but otherwise okay.

Taken to a hospital in nearby Arco, he was examined, given food and sent to bed.

Custer County Sheriff Glen Reed who drove Johnson, 38, a bachelor, to the hospital said, "He didn't have much to say. He was pretty cold but had enough room to keep moving around in there so he could keep from freezing."

Justice of the Peace Art Wright of Mackay said "they got him out by drilling a series of holes through a petition from another shaft, then chipping out the area between the holes. They couldn't blast because of the cave-in danger."

Deming Division Holds Sales School

Representatives At Salem Plant For 3 Days

Twenty-five factory representatives of the Deming Division, Crane Company, together with a half dozen Crane officials from Philadelphia, New York and Chicago, are meeting at the company's Salem offices and plant today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Coming from 21 states, and Canada, they are spending the days to review recent pump developments and discuss plans for 1964.

Walter Deming, general manager, and Jack Klein, manager of marketing, explained 11 new or expanded pump products.

Deming pointed out that expansion at the Salem plant is tending towards larger units, including large double suction pumps, sewage pumps, chemical pumps and vertical turbine pumps. The small units in general are manufactured at the Rogers, Ark., plant.

Approximately $50,000 has been expended in test floor equipment in Salem over the past few months, he added. This equipment is required to determine the accuracy and efficiency of the newly-developed larger outfits. The equipment is able to quickly and accurately test pumps up to 500 horsepower.

Another recent development, the Computest, developed by Deming engineers, which is found on the test floor, gives complete data on small centrifugal pumps in 7 1/2 minutes, which formerly took a day and a half. This allows for quicker shipment and greater customer satisfaction.

Klein reported an increase in sales last year and both he and Deming voiced optimism for '64, with the new and expanded lines available.

Deming pointed out that this product orientation meeting held each year about this time, allows the factory representatives to meet together, exchange experiences and become fully oriented to all new procedures, policies and products. Each department head acts as an instructor for periods of time, thus passing on to the men information which will help them in their sales work.

TALENT SHOWCASES AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — After a two-year intermission, the Broadway Show League is resuming "Talent" showcases for young performers.

John Effrat, producer, said the series is planned to resume in April as a salute to the World's Fair. Three separate matinee programs are to be given—drama, musical comedy and concert skills.

Among performers who benefited by "Talent" exhibits in previous years are Juanita Hall, Dody Goodman, Kay Medford, Charles Nelson Reilly, Kaye Ballard and Earle Hyman.

But he also showed an inaccurately named wall-flower dress with deep arm holes and an indefinite shape like an amoeba.

Very often the Lyndon B. Johnson influence showed up — that's the new name for the cowboy look, important since the Texan moved into the White House. Silk low-belted shifts sported scarves tied sideways or backward. But instead of a ten-gallon hat, each jaunty model wore a pint-sized white fedora.

Those who expect kookie things from the West Coast designer who promises topless ladies' bathing suits within five years were justified by Gernreich's ruffled polka-dotted clown dress and pajamas, purple and orange brocade jump suit for formal dinners, and an exaggerated white trench coat over white tight pants, with cocky cap to match.

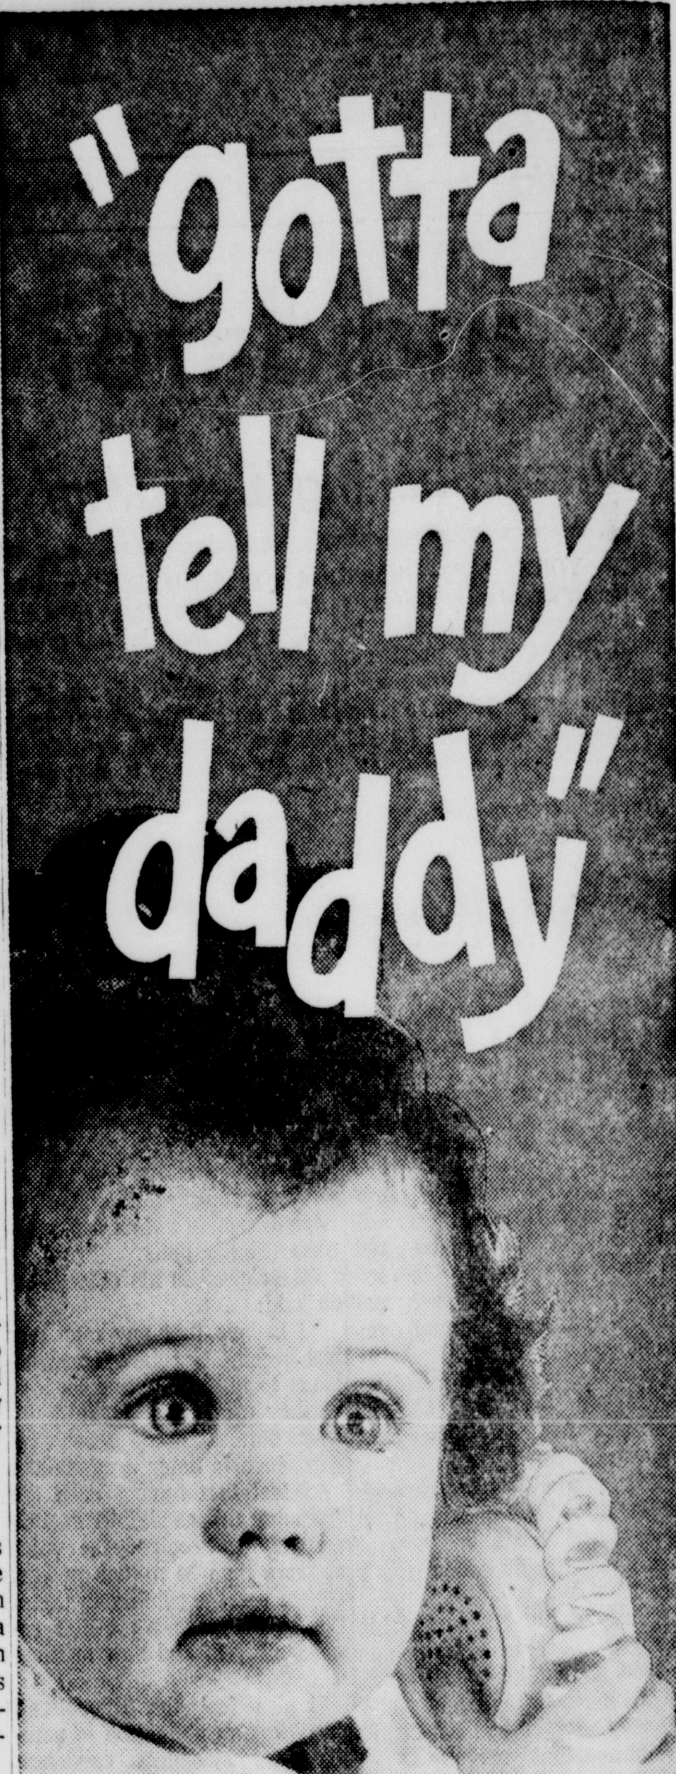

Ceil Chapman, queen of the draped shape, returned to her throne this season with voluptuous chiffon and matte jersey numbers right out of the "My Fair Lady" musical.

This year Miss Chapman was a sidewinder—with tucks, draping, panels and revealing slits winding up on the same side.

Egghead scientists and the sailors came into the fashion picture with the Pellon show featuring as yet unknown designers. Some found design inspiration from the white lab coats of researchers, while still others found style in the middy suit, made giddy with lace or militant with gold braid.

The great highway performer

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan and (background) Impala Convertible

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet

What does it take to make a car a great highway performer?

If the car happens to be a '64 Chevrolet, one thing only. A highway.

You'll find everything else already neatly packaged for you—on the car exactly as you pick it off the showroom floor.

There's a choice of seven engines—all the way up to a twin-carb high-compression 425-hp V8*—and four transmissions, including a finely honed 4-speed stick shift.*

And underlying it all—a bump-skimming Jet-smooth ride that helps keep the performance great even when the highways aren't so great.

What about special performance equipment? Professional driving skills? Forget them.

Nobody has to doctor or coax or soup up these Chevrolets to get the best out of them. They were built to be driven by you—on the kinds of roads you drive on. And that's really the test of a great highway performer: Just about anyone can get a kick out of driving one, just as it comes out of the showroom.

Which, after all, is the kind of performance you'd expect from Chevrolet. The greater satisfaction and enjoyment built into these cars is borne out, year after year, by the higher resale they bring over other makes in their field.

Next time you're out your dealer's way, allow a few extra minutes to sample one of these highway performers on your own. A few are really all you'll need. That's enough time to do a lot of driving in a Chevrolet.

Spending the Income Tax Money

The City of Salem is not building up a "Fort Knox nest egg" through its income tax collections, but it is obtaining a comfortable fund for necessary general expenses and capital improvements.

Until the income tax went into effect three years ago, municipal operations were on pretty shaky ground. Revenue from other tax sources was insufficient to meet rising costs in nearly all departments.

Auditor Helen Coyne's report to City Council Tuesday, showing a record $212,236 received in income tax payments reflects a $14,387 gain over the preceding year, and before final '63 payments are completed an additional $40,000 may reach the city treasury.

Just how was some of this money spent? Well, tax payments made it possible last year for the city to participate in the W. State St. overpass construction, carry out much-needed street improvements, extend vital sewer lines and install new traffic controls, although the latter are still not in the best synchronization.

Other improvements will be carried out this year when the weather conditions improve.

The tax has made it possible for the city to have the available funds. However, as Councilman Jack Rance pointed out so timely the other night, City Council has an obligation to see that certain programs and projects are completed and his recommendation of a calendar for immediate and long-range programs merits the support of his fellow legislators and other city officials as well.

The income tax money is collected from wage earners who will be satisfied only as long as the funds are well-spent on valid projects. With this thought kept in mind at all times, Council will never run into trouble on expenditures.

Whirling Dervish Routine

If any of us had to give a State of the Union message to Congress, it would be pretty much like President Johnson's message.

This is why State of the Union messages have been awate of time in recent years. By the time a chief executive touches all the bases and makes everybody feel good, he is more whirling dervish than responsible leader getting down to the realities of national existence.

President Johnson touched all the bases. He promised something for everybody, then put a frosting on it by saying it could all be done for less money. It can't, and he knows it.

He gazed benignly on a Congress paralyzed by a bickering majority of his own party's members and envisioned it setting new standards of good will and cooperation. It won't, and he knows that, too.

He knows there is going to be Dixie lemn of human labor which cannot compete with automation is going to be with us for years to come.

He knows the federal government is not filibuster on civil rights and that the probability to loose its stranglehold on rail transportation and that highway construction will lag behind an auto production rate of more than seven million new vehicles a year.

HE IS acutely aware of the difficulty of reaching accord in a Congress dominated by Democratic majorities incapable of coalescing on key issues.

Most of all, he faces with deep misgivings his own prospect of falling between the two horses he is trying to ride — the program of the late John F. Kennedy with his left foot, the conservatism of his Southern Senate friends with his right foot. He is going to give more and tax less.

Franklin Roosevelt came a cropper on that one; Harry Truman came a cropper, John Kennedy couldn't bring it off successfully and Lyndon Johnson won't have any luck either.

Yet, no one can blame him for not saying so.

The truth is, the state of the Union is good, as such things go — as good as can be expected.

The probability is it will stay good, not because of anything politicians can stir up to justify their quarrelsome presence but because the American people are determined to make their own way with or without the help of politics.

The life blood of the political trade is issue-making, debate and division.

The life blood of the nation is productive labor, faith, adherence to principles and a decent concern with the lot of mankind in general.

THE ILLUSION that everything depends on the turn of a political wrist or the whim of an officeholder was shattered long ago.

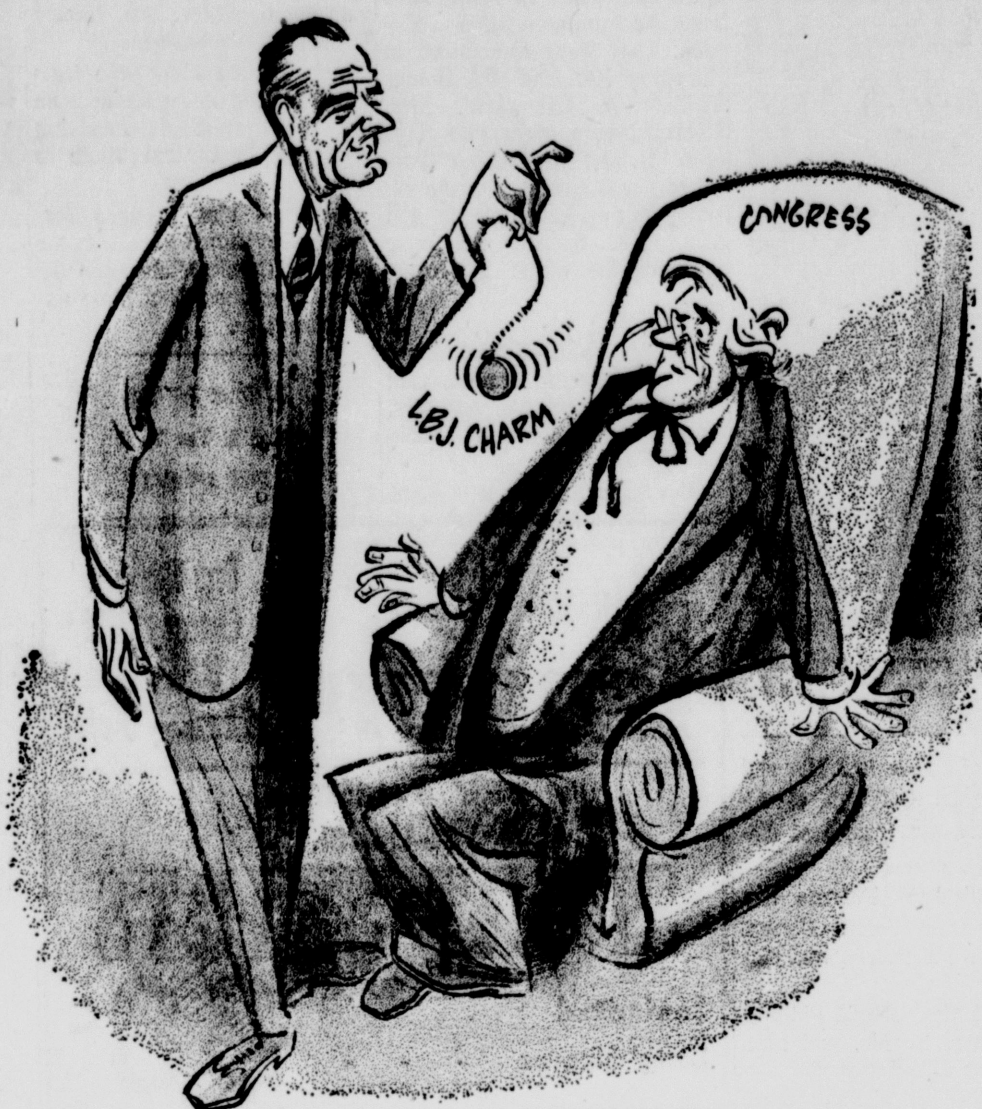

A State of the Union message someday may say so, but it's still too soon for candor in 1964.

No one expected President Johnson to do the unexpected. None of us would have done the unexpected, either.

The President's future assuredly is packed with surprises without adding any surprises of his own manufacture in his first State of the Union message.

The whirling dervish routine is what people expect, and it is what they were given.

"You Are Starting To See Things
My Way --- My Way!"

The Teamsters' Drive

By VICTOR RIESEL

Teamsters are putting a lot of wheels in motion for what they hope will be a Rockefeller bandwagon. They are taking quite seriously the word of their leader, Jimmy Hoffa, who said back on Sept. 18:

"I would hope he would be a candidate because I believe he is a seasoned individual. . . ."

So, in ward after ward, in this granite state of spectacular primary fights, the Teamsters are going door to door, getting people out to register and stuffing their neighbors' hands and mailboxes with the political literature of DRIVE (Democrat Republican Independent Voter Education). This is Hoffa's political machine whose national home is in the teamsters' national headquarters in Washington.

Leading the activists in a veteran "teamster", Basil French. He has his friends in the New Hampshire labor movement and has convinced many of them to climb on "Rocky's" bandwagon.

SOME OF THEM are in the construction trades. Others are in the garden variety of labor units which abound throughout this state of small plants. Not too long ago, French and his still unofficial Rockefeller labor committee thought they had enough rolling for them to call a statewide meeting of New Hampshire labor officials and to invite the New York governor to address them. French even arranged for the rally to be held in the teamsters' hall in Manchester, N.H.

That proletarian demonstration for Rockefeller was scheduled for Nov. 24. It was never held. But the political moratorium is over. There will be other rallies. DRIVE will see to that.

Jimmy Hoffa hopes to make '64 his big political year. He and DRIVE director Sidney Zagari have picked their spots for concentrated political action. They plan to roll motorcades into Washington from all parts of the land.

Teamsters' delegations will flood the capital. Members of the DRIVE Ladies' Auxiliary (DLA) will march through the district like the suffragettes of old.

ALL THIS has been carefully projected. In mid-December a three-day meeting of DRIVE regional directors from all over the country was held in Chicago.

Under Hoffa's and Zagari's guidance, they scheduled a coast to coast DRIVE membership campaign to be launched on Jan. 15.

Local teamsters' unions are under orders to start the big enrollment campaigns. Their efforts will not go unrewarded, since Jimmy Hoffa is a pragmatist with a deep knowledge of humanity's motivations. There will be prizes.

These will be awarded on a point system. The sale of a $100 life membership will bring 50 points. Of course you don't have to join for life. Points are awarded for membership sales to lesser enthusiasts, too.

BY ROLLING UP 150 points, members of DRIVE and the ladies auxiliary win a "17 jewel, lifetime guaranteed" watch. But there is a difference between the awards to the lucky ladies and the gentlemen.

For the gentlemen, the watch will have a teamster emblem on the dial facing. But that's not all. There will be a "photograph of General President Hoffa on the back." For the ladies, the watch will not only have the teamster emblem on the face, but a "picture of General President and Mrs. Hoffa on the rear facing."

These watches, with expansion bands, will be awarded jointly by the national DRIVE headquarters and the local DRIVE units.

In New Hampshire, as well as in other carefully selected states, the big registration push will begin Feb. 15, after a month of intensive DRIVE recruitment.

ALL THIS activity is important to Jim Hoffa at the moment. He faces a tough year in and out of his behemoth brotherhood. He needs allies — especially political ones. Hoffa knows there is no quicker way to gain such friends than to prove that he and his organization can deliver votes where they count.

He wants a truce in his war with the government. There is evidence of this in the teamsters' publications he controls. His national magazine and his political bulletin are heavy with warm words for the late President Kennedy.

So throughout the country, as well as in this telltale state, Teamsters have been doorbell-ringing in the New Year.

It will be interesting to see what the teamsters can deliver.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your answer to the woman whose husband confessed he had wandered from the straight and narrow — only once — made me furious.

"Forgive the big lug," you said. That's some advice from a lady who has millions of readers and is the patron saint of teen-agers.

Isn't there enough adultery going on without Ann Landers giving her blessings? All the men need is somebody like you on their side.

"Why do they do it?" she said. Your reply, "Pure sex — it has nothing to do with love. Variety." Well, why doesn't the same hold true for females? Why not head your next column "The little woman needs extra marital affairs to combat the boredom of housework."

You let every wife in this country down with your lousy advice. And you gave a big boost to the weaklings and the philanderers. — THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED.

Dear Thoroughly: I write a column for millions of people who live in a real world with real problems. For fairy tales I recommend Mr. Grimm.

To the woman who asked if it was possible for a husband who loves his wife to slip, I replied, "Yes it is." And I'll say it again. My advice to forgive and forget was realistic and it was practical.

I'm for keeping homes and families together. If every husband who slipped once was ordered to move out, there'd be a terrible housing shortage.

Parents of the Bride

Dear Ann: We are a working couple of modest means. Our daughter is engaged to marry a young man from a well-known family.

Several weeks ago I told the groom's mother she could invite 75 guests to the wedding dinner and we would invite only 30

Philadelphia Case

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The courts of Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Louisiana, Tennessee and Georgia got a strange but significant vindication a few days ago as they noted that rulings of the Supreme Court of the United States were being calmly ignored not by Southern but judges. For a three-judge court of Common Pleas in Philadelphia unanimously ordered an injunction issued against the use of "blackface" makeup in a street parade even though the Pennsylvania Court itself acknowledged there is no law prohibiting such a costume.

The Philadelphia judges applied the same line of reasoning as their Southern brethren on the bench have used in taking cognizance of possible violence. Not only were participants in the parade forbidden to wear the costumes they have used for decades in the so-called Mummers Parade, held annually by private organizations but demonstrations by Negro pickets who objected to the burnt-cork makeup were prohibited by the new court order.

Many a judge in the South in the last few years has been confronted with somewhat similar situations. Threats of violence, publicized in the community, have led to tension and fear of bloodshed.

But the Supreme Court of the United States on May 20, 1963, overturned a ruling of the Supreme Court of Georgia in a case in which it had been argued that the convicted Negroes were guilty of breach of the peace "because their activity was likely to cause a breach of the peace by others." The high court declared:

"And the possibility of disorder by others cannot justify exclusion of persons from a place if they otherwise have a constitutional right — founded upon the equal protection clause — to be present."

THE SUPREME COURT had similarly held on Feb. 25, 1963, that the conviction of 187 Negro students in South Carolina for breach of the peace should be reversed because this violated the Negro's constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.

The students had demonstrated on the grounds of the South Carolina state house. A large crowd had gathered to watch. The students were told to disperse by police officials. They were convicted by state courts of breach of the peace. Justice Stewart, speaking for the Supreme Court, said:

"And it is clear to us that in arresting, convicting, and punishing the petitioners under the circumstances disclosed by this record, South Carolina infringed the petitioners' constitutionally protected rights of free speech, free assembly, and freedom to petition for redress of their grievances."

Today is Thursday, Jan. 9th. There are 357 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1793, Francois Blanchard of France made the first balloon flight. He remained in the air 45 minutes and his landing at Woodbury, N.J., was witnessed by George Washington.

On this date: In 1816, Sir Humphry Davy's safety lamp was first used in mines.

In 1861, Mississippi seceded from the Union.

In 1945 the U.S. invasion of the Philippines during World War II began when 6th Army troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur landed on Luzon.

In 1950, the New Jersey Supreme Court declared that loyalty oaths were unconstitutional.

Ten years ago — Iraq proposed that the eight members of the Arab League move toward federation by uniting their key ministries.

Five years ago — More than 130 Spaniards were drowned or reported missing in floods caused by a broken dam in a small town near the Portuguese border.

One year ago — The former board chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, J. Truman Bidwell, was acquitted of income tax evasion by a federal court jury.

Also, on Dec. 11, 1961, the Supreme Court held in a Louisiana case that "sit-in" demonstrators at a lunch counter did not break the state law on breaches of the peace which punishes "passive conduct likely to cause a public disturbance."

In a Tennessee case decided May 27, 1963, the City of Memphis had claimed that a gradual desegregation plan was necessary "to prevent interracial disturbances, violence, riots, and community confusion and turmoil."

The Supreme Court, however, ruled that "constitutional rights may not be denied simply because of hostility to their assertion or exercise." It ordered immediate desegregation.

IN PHILADELPHIA last week the three judges admitted they were influenced by the sentiment of the Negro citizens, who constitute a very substantial proportion of the city's population, and hence they decided that the protest against the use of "blackface" was a forerunner of trouble.

This is a conspicuous case of yielding to community sentiment, even though the exercise of constitutional rights is denied at the same time.

"Blackface" groups have taken part in the New Year's Day Mummers Parade in Philadelphia for many years. Heretofore they have not been considered objectionable by Negro organizations. The stunts were part of an occasion of fun and frolic. The "blackface" minstrel show has a long history in America, growing out of the Negro's own facility for music and laughter. Now it is apparently regarded as an insult by the Negro organizations which lodged the protest.

Some members threatened violence unless the Mummers discontinued this feature of its parade.

Shall the courts take into consideration the feelings and sentiment of a community, irrespective of whether there is any law or court order involved? Do citizens have a right to demonstrate and parade and use whatever costumes they like?

The Philadelphia judges' answer apparently is that, where strong public sentiment is involved, the courts must take it into account.

THAT'S PRECISELY what the Southern court judges have done, only to encounter widespread criticism in the North. Indeed, the Supreme Court of the United States once held that "to cry 'fire!' in a crowded theater" is not a right of free speech protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution.

The Philadelphia judges evidently thought they, too, have a right to prevent a panic or violence in the streets, and so, in effect, they also subordinated the right to demonstrate when it appeared to be contrary to local sentiment. One wonders what the Supreme Court of the United States may say in answer to the action of the Philadelphia judges.

spend their greater take-home pay for more things, although some will save a bit more than in 1963. There will still be a sizable number without jobs, however, especially those in the younger age brackets. And those on fix incomes, notable among the growing ranks of the elderly, will still have to watch their pennies.

Shortages of goods aren't in sight. Foreign and domestic competition will keep producers and sellers wooing the consumer as strongly as ever, and eager to promote many new products.

Here's the 1964 outlook for hour job and pay, for the cost of food, clothing, shelter, cars and services — and your tax bills:

JOBS—Number will increase slowly but unemployment will stay high.

More workers will find their jobs threatened by new machines. Unions will plug hard for a shorter work week and other hedges. The unskilled, especially those just entering the growing labor force, will find the going tougher than ever.

PERSONAL INCOMES—Will continue on upward trend.

If a tax cut materializes, and affects the entire year, the 1964 income total could rise as much as 25 billion above the $472.8 billion annual rate it hit near the end of 1963, since a federal tax cut might stimulate general economic growth and help many pocket-books. Increased business spending for plant and equipment also could pad personal incomes.

LIVING COSTS—The slow but steady rise will continue in many lines.

Competition among producers and rising productivity will still hold down prices of many manufactured goods unless a real business boom puts idle capacity to work and makes consumers complacent. But the creeping rise in the cost of distribution and services continues. The biggest increase in 1963 was in rent, transportation, medical care and recreation.

FOOD—Weather, and maybe the Russians, could affect prices.

But barring unusually bad crop conditions or unusually heavy exports, prospects are for fairly stable price structures, and an abundance for the expanding American population. Food processors expect retail sales to climb by another $2 billion in 1964, as in 1963.

CLOTHING—Spring apparel may cost a little more than in 1963.

Fall 1963 saw an increase in some lines, credited in part to rising minimum wages in some textiles, and spring prices are expected to top year-ago figures. But the apparel industry is looking for a better sales volume anyway, especially if a tax cut gives larger take-home pay.

HOUSE—The boom is getting more selective.

In some cities the more ex-rising material costs and high demand.

More cars per family and the growing number of teen-agers bolster markets for new and used cars. Automation offsets the cost rise of some production parts, at least in part, but upcoming labor negotiations may affect price of next fall's models.

ADD IT UP—the first half of 1964 looks good for both the consumer and for business.

If the momentum holds, the whole year could be a repeat of the performance of 1963: Pleasantly better than the preceding year in most categories.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

DEAR FOLKS: If you want to make something different for a change that is ever so good and takes little effort, try this:

Buy some dried apricots. Put them in a great big fruit jar. Pour boiling water over them and let sit overnight. Do not put too many apricots in the jar because, remember, they will swell. Fill the jar about half full of fruit.

The next day put these apricots in the refrigerator. Let them sit one more day.

By then, they will have become swollen. . . nice and juicy. Pour the water off, put the apricots, as is, into the blender (or electric mixer) and give them a whirl.

At this time add a few spoons of sugar or a sugar substitute. You will come out with the thickest most exciting jam you have ever tasted.

If you like a wee bit of a sour taste, thinly slice four or five slivers of fresh lemon and put in the jar before pouring the boiling water over the fruit.

I have also tried this with other dried fruits such as pears and peaches. Wham, does it make a different treat for breakfast! This is wonderful when put on waffles or hot-cakes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here are a few suggestions for the hurried mother with little children:

A finicky appetite of a sick child can be stimulated sometime by these little tricks. Keep a box of tiny colored pictures, cut from magazines. There will be pictures of a little bird, animals, flowers, automobiles, etc.

Fasten one of these pictures on the bottom of a sturdy glass or custard cup, glass cereal bowl etc. with scotch tape. The child is eager to see the picture and he eats and drinks the contents of all the glass dishes! The child really loves it.

MRS. MAURICE GORDON.

DEAR HELOISE: Too much moisture on window panes can be stopped very easily in a home that does not have a basement.

Large sheets of Pliofilm (which can be purchased inexpensively from any builders supply firm) spread out over the ground under the house will solve the problem!

Until we did this, we were bothered with so much moisture that we actually had mildewed walls behind the furniture.

READER.

Must be so. Even exterminating companies wrote in that they did the same thing! Many people put their own Polyethylene plastic on the ground under the home. No more sweaty windows and most people swore that mildew was eliminated in closets! It's cheap, so sure is worth a try.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Yesterday, I suggestfully removed an old cod liver oil stain from one of my baby's best cotton dresses by using hydrogen peroxide.

I poured two tablespoons of peroxide in a china bowl and added a pinch of borax and applied this mixture to the stain. I let it set awhile and then laundered as usual.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: This idea came from a lumber yard (and it's a honey): They sold me a one foot square of quarter-inch masonite tempered hardboard for a kitchen cutting board. Dad rounded the edges.

This is great for cutting roasts, preparing sandwiches or salads, protecting the kitchen surface from hot pans, and so forth. It cleans easily with a soapy dish cloth. Best of all, it has no splinters and it does not hold odors!

ELLEN GREENGARD.

DEAR HELOISE: As a warning to woman who soak their venetian blinds in detergent for a long time. . . if they are soaked too long it might loosen the paint, especially if your detergent mixture is too strong.

Several of my neighbors and myself found this out to our dismay when we took our blinds out of the bathtub and the baked-on finish just slid right off and we had to buy new blinds.

AGNES JOSEPH.

Gals, this is right about soaking venetian blinds in the bathtub with too strong a

16 To Receive Inoculations

More Convicts Aid In Cancer Experiments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A jail of a needle is enlisting another group of Ohio Penitentiary inmates today in the fight against cancer.

The inoculation of the 16 volunteers begins the 13th phase of cancer research experiments conducted at the penitentiary by the Sloan Kettering Institute of New York.

Fifty-four inmates have volunteered for the tests. In addition to the 16 receiving the live cancer cells today, another 16 will be used in the next series of experiments two weeks hence. The others may be used in future work.

Live cancer cells will be injected into each inmate's forearm.

Dr. Richard Brook, penitentiary medical director, said this experiment will attempt to determine whether white corpuscles have anything to do with the "protective mechanism" of the human body.

He said the cancer cells will be allowed to remain in the inmate's arm for several days. Then a pint of blood will be drawn from each of the men and the blood processed to remove the white cells.

In two weeks — for the 14th phase — the second group of 16 also will receive an injection of live cancer cells. Dr. Brooks said that after a few days' incubation period, the second group will be administered the white corpuscles and tests will attempt to determine the role of the white cells in the "protective mechanism."

One of the volunteers, Norman McAuley, 25, of Akron, said he joined in the testing because "I felt I might as well do something worthwhile as long as I'm in here." McAuley is serving a 10-25 year sentence for armed robbery.

"All this research might some day help me or my family or thousands of other people who might be hit by cancer," said another volunteer, Denver Carter, 26, of Columbus, imprisoned for burglary.

Sloan Kettering has been conducting the penitentiary experiments for a number of years. There have been no fatalities due to the tests, nor serious illnesses.

With the injection of the cancer cells in the forearm—various types of cancer cells have been used through the years—a lump appears on the arm. In some cases the body has fought off the cells, in others the lump has been removed by surgery.

Canton Man Taken To Ohio Penitentiary

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Robert K. Domer, 43, scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair April 20 for the torch slaying of Howard F. Riddle, 54, of Akron, was taken from Stark County jail to Columbus Wednesday.

Domer was convicted Nov. 29 and a motion for a new trial was rejected. Riddle's body was found in Domer's burned automobile last April. The state said Domer plotted to fake his own death by using Riddle's body.

YOUNG GIRL RAPED

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 12-year-old girl who said she decided to take a short cut home after school Wednesday was raped in a sandlot behind Woodward High School, police report-

PAIR ROBS COMPANY

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two hold-up men took $8,800 from the Heidelberg Distributing Co. Wednesday night. They left a parttime cashier, Robert Buckley, 25, bound and gagged in a

A Satellite to End Satellites---

Exploded view of an antisatellite system.

The Air Force has been given the go-ahead to orbit a manned space laboratory. Though the final design has not been decided on, a candidate for such a craft is this three-man antisatellite ship by General Dynamics.

The satellite killer would enter the same orbit as a suspected hostile satellite, which it would inspect electronically from a safe distance of 50 miles. Small, unmanned "inspector/killers" interceptors could be launched for close-up looks and, if necessary, destruction of the satellite. The saucerlike main section would carry the spacemen back to earth.

Three-man re-entry vehicle.

Looking Back

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Nostalgia is man's favorite medicine for what ails him. It cures his blues.

Everyone likes to look back, even the child who delights in asking its parents, "Tell me again about when I was just a little baby."

The great virtue of memory is that it softens the past, bandages many of its bruises, and makes it seem a less complex period than the busy present.

You've seen a lot of water flow under the bridge yourself if you can pause now and remember when—

Practically every home held a picture of the national hero—Gen. John J. (Blackjack) Pershing, U.S. commander in France during World War I. Most country clubs were kept solvent by a battery of slot machines in the recreation room.

You could learn the chronology of your ancestors by reading the dates of their births and deaths in an old and massive family Bible.

More young lads were tempted to chew tobacco at an early age than to smoke cigarettes, because big league baseball players traditionally were "chawers."

There were more flop-eared mules in America than automobiles—and more horses than either.

During Prohibition days, if a man let dandelions grow in his yard, the neighbors were sure he was using them to make wine.

You could make the average child happy by giving him a penny to buy himself a "jaw-breaker."

If you got a cinder in your eye, you didn't go to a doctor.

Camp Fire Girls

Wa wu Tandas Group

The Wa wu Tandas group of Camp Fire Girls of Prospect Street School held a combined holiday party and workshop at the home of the guardian, Mrs. William Washington of W. Wilson St., Saturday, and completed gilded bamboo vanity boxes as gifts for their mothers. Mrs. Washington then instructed them on the art of candy making.

Camp Fire songs were enjoyed with piano accompaniment by Nancy Cody and Nancy Roth.

A huge red candle in a nest of pine tips decorated the red covered refreshment table. Mrs. Terry McLaughlin is assistant guardian and sponsors are Mrs. Merlin Cody and Mrs. Martin Roth.

PROF'S MORALITY PLAY

NEW YORK (AP) — A morality play by a college professor is to be an American exhibit in the 11th International Theater Festival in Paris this summer. "Roughshod Up the Mountain" is to be shown after the French visit on a tour of eight European cities and is to be brought here next season.

The author, Arthur C. Lamb, is professor of drama at Morgan State College, Baltimore. The play's story concerns a minister's struggle against material temptation.

Labor Beset by Problems As It Enters New Year

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. labor movement goes into 1964 on the defensive about lagging membership, rising unemployment and fear of a trend toward government intervention in such vital union matters as organizing and bargaining.

Other worries carried over from 1963 include internal disputes that weaken labor's attempts to face its troubles with something approaching a united front, and uncertainty about the new man in the White House.

The more combative stance of President George Meany of the AFL-CIO, labor's biggest bloc with more than 13 million members, indicates some measure of the depth of union concern.

Meany has outlined a major grassroots political campaign aimed at putting more of labor's friends in federal and state offices.

And the AFL-CIO is demanding a 35-hour work week as its No. 1 goal, in combatting increasing technological unemployment—a demand the late President John F. Kennedy refused to go along with.

President Johnson's position on the length of the work week remains a mystery to labor, but his promise to follow many seem to indicate any startling departure on labor matters.

The persistence of long-term unemployment — which approached 4 million at yearend of Kennedy's policies doesn't — and automation's added job-loss impact led to labor's demand for shorter hours to spread work.

Labor leaders also want a big retain the unemployed, educate the unskilled and job-creating public works projects. Congress hasn't been especially responsive to these demands.

Such labor goals are sought not only by the AFL-CIO, but by such as James R. Hoffa's big Teamsters Union—although the two refuse to work together even on matters of mutual concern.

Labor's worries over government intervention were aggravated by the railroad arbitration ruling and by setbacks in the fight against state right-to-work laws.

The arbitration ruling, which could eventually eliminate thousands of jobs held by members of five train operating unions, stirred labor's fears of more forced arbitration endangering collective bargaining. The rail unions are still fighting the ruling in court.

A right-to-work law proposal appeared certain to go on the ballot next year in Oklahoma. And a Supreme Court ruling that the states can enforce their right-to-work laws against the agency shop as well as the union shop further upset labor's peace of mind.

Union shop contracts require a worker to join the union after being hired by the company. The agency shop does not, but requires payments to unions equal to the amount of dues and fees levied against members working under the same contract.

Labor believes right-to-work legislation strikes at the heart of organizing efforts, already but his promise to flow many stalled because of rising unemployment.

Union membership has remained virtually static for several years while millions of new workers have entered the labor force.

"You have to organize hard just to stand still," said an AFL-CIO spokesman.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q—My doctor says I have nerve deafness. I have had it for more than a year. I've been told that a hearing aid will not benefit this kind of deafness. Is that correct?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—The hearing aid works well in persons with conduction deafness, but if the auditory nerve is damaged it will do no good. A new type of hearing aid that may help persons with nerve deafness is being tried. It is an electronic device designed to replace the lost sound receptors in the ear, but it is still strictly an experimental gadget and no commercial one is available.

Because these things take time, rather than fold your hands and wait, you should busy yourself learning lip reading. It can be remarkably effective.

Q—Is there such a thing as an operation to restore hearing so that I won't need a hearing aid?

A—Several operations have been used to restore hearing. Whether or not one of them would help you could be easily determined by an ear specialist.

Q—What is otitis media Does it ever cause brain abscess?

A—Otitis media is an infection of the middle ear or that portion of the ear between the eardrum and the Eustachian tube which opens into the throat. It is a common complication of measles, whooping cough, pneumonia and other respiratory infections. About 40 per cent of all brain abscesses can be traced to otitis media.

Fortunately, otitis media is not as common as it was in the days before penicillin, and early treatment usually results in prompt cure without complications.

Q—In 1929 I contracted syphilis. I took treatments and was pronounced cured. Four years later I had a normal, healthy baby daughter. She now has a son who has something wrong with his blood. Can this in any way be due to my syphilis?

A—enit syphilis does not skip a generation. Therefore, your grandson's disease is not related to yours which was cured. You do not say what blood disease he has, but Rh incompatibility between your daughter and her husband is a possibility.

Q—My mother has cancer of the esophagus. I recently read about a drug called Laetrile. Would it help her?

A—No one can blame you for wanting to clutch at a straw, but Laetrile is not the answer to your problem. Whenever a new drug is tried on cancer patients, a certain number of patients show a marked improvement, even though the drug itself may be worthless. This is a tribute to the hopefulness of the human spirit. It is also a boon to the peddler of quack cancer cures.

Federal Food and Drug Administration researchers have found no evidence that Laetrile is of any real value in the treatment of cancer. The drug may not be legally manufactured or distributed in this country.

Salem Battles Harding In Big 8 Loop Test Friday

Panthers Press, Team Has Vets

Cabas Is Pleased With Quakers' Drills

Warren Harding presses. Three other opponents faced by Salem this season pressed, and the Quakers, unable to cope with the maneuver, ended up losing each time the defense was used.

Harding, the Quakers' Ohio Big 8 Conference rival here Friday night, undoubtedly will throw the press at Salem.

A few Warren fans think Harding is at least 15 points better than Salem.

They point out that Salem has beaten a poor Alliance basketball team (0-6) for its only win 80-54 this season, and that the Panthers have a 5-4 record.

"WE ALSO WHIPPED a good Salem team twice last year," declared one Harding fan, "and you lost all but a couple players off that squad at June graduation."

"Harding," he added "has three veterans back. A couple of them started as sophomores."

John Cabas has been pleased with this week's practices. "We have shown more hustle, team spirit and determination during drills the past couple of days than at any other time since the season began," said the Salem coach.

During workouts, Salem drilled on fundamentals, offensive patterns and the press.

Harding should have a slight height advantage and a wealth of basketball experience on the Quakers.

Coach Dick Boyd's probable starting lineup includes Bill Redderson, 6-2½ at center. He will be flanked by Dick Androsko, 6-1 and Dick Thomas, 6-1. The front court boys are Mike Richetto, 5-11 and Frank Strother, 5-9.

Richetto, a three-year vet, is the number-one point producer for the Panthers. His push and jump shots from the key - hole have netted the classy senior 159 points.

Androsko is pushing the Harding guard. He has collected 79 markers.

THE PANTHERS HAVE an exceptionally good sixth man in Don Fitch, 6-1 senior, who only a few weeks ago tried out for the team. He had been playing in the Warren City Basketball League.

In three appearances so far, the newest member of the Harding squad has scored 27 points.

Harding has beaten Cardinal Mooney 63 - 53; East Liverpool 67-62; Struthers 78-66; Canton Lehman 64-59 and its Alumni. The Panthers' losses were to Sharon, Pa., 50-45; Massillon 79-84; Farrell, Pa., 59-34; and Canton McKinley 65-38.

George Begalla, Rick Gregg, Chuck Joseph, Jim Lantz and Wayne Washington have drawn the opening assignments for the Quakers.

Tri-County League Cage Race To Highlight Weekend Slate

As interesting a cage card as there has been in the area this season will be highlighted by the torrid race in Tri-County League this weekend.

Friday's program is spiced with unbeaten Lisbon (7-0) at Columbiana (6-1) in a game that could shuffle the Tri-County standings considerably.

It appears surprising Minerva could emerge on top after a full slate of league action. The Lions, tied with the Blue Devils for first place (3-0 records), are at Leetonia.

Sebring is at Louisville and East Palestine travels to Poland.

A SHOWDOWN contest finds McKinley, Big Conference leader, risking its unbeaten record (8-0) at Canton Lincoln (9-0). In Big 8 loop clashes Warren (5-4) comes to Salem (1-5) and East Liverpool (4-5) travels to Steubenville (5-1).

Springfield Local (8-3) hits the road for West Branch (4-4). Beaver Local will try and snap a six-game losing streak, when it entertains Toronto.

South, one of the big-three in Canton, should have any trouble in whipping Perry for its ninth straight victory.

SATURDAY'S CARD finds Salem making its first road trip of the campaign when the Quakers travel to meet tough Boardman (5-2).

A full Tri-County League schedule finds Columbiana at Minerva, Louisville at East Palestine, Poland at Lisbon and Leetonia at Sebring.

In the only Big tilt on tap, Niles travels to Alliance. Akron St. Vincent will entertain Canton McKinley.

McDonald, Inter-County League leader, will risk its undefeated mark (7-0) when it plays host to North Lima. Crestview is at Mineral Ridge.

Furman Wins 74-63 Over Richmond; Undefeated DePaul Whips NDU

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Furman's Selvy of the Sixties isn't Frank, but he's earnest.

David Selvy, who has stumbled more than once while trying to follow the footsteps of his brother Frank, hit the high point total of his career Wednesday night with a 25-point effort that carried Furman to a 74-63 Southern Conference basketball victory over Richmond.

Ten years ago, Furman's Frank Selvy was a month away from his 100-point output against Newberry, one giant step in the most fantastic single season ever recorded in major college annals. When the entries all were posted, Selvy had scored 1,209 points for a 41.7 average.

Three years ago, David Selvy came to Furman. The temptation was to bel him "another Frank." He wasn't.

He scored only 71 points in 16 games as a sophomore—Frank scored more in three quarters—then was held out of action last season by Coach Lyles Alley. And going into the game against Richmond, David had only a 13-point average this season.

But the 6-foot-2 junior had that Selvy touch against the Spiders. Richmond led 51-42 when David took over. He sank seven of eight shots from the field, put the Paladins ahead to stay 58-57 with four minutes remaining and wound up with 16 points in a torrid eight-minute stretch.

While Furman was winning its fifth game against nine losses, DePaul remained one of the country's three major unbeaten teams along with UCL and Davidson. The Blue Demons won their 10th straight and continued their bid for national ranking by whipping Notre Dame 86-73.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got 25 points from Les Hunter and 24 from Ron Miller in a 96-80 victory over Marquette, and 10th-ranked Duke tightened its hold on first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference race by edging Clemson 81-75. Rich Kaistra equalled his season's output of 25 points as he led Virginia to a 66-53 triumph over North Carolina State. Rick Barry scored 35 points in Miami of Florida's 97-92 decision over Jacksonville and Georgia Tech downed South Carolina 87-73.

In other games, Navy crushed Long Island U. 93-56, Louisville defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 72-63, Colgate overwhelmed Florida Southern 117-85, LaSalle walloped Lafayette 83, Miami of Ohio belted Kent State 85-68 and Temple edged St. John's, N.Y. 62-57.

Miami Moves Into 1st Place In MAC Race As Bowling Green Trims Toledo

By The Associated Press

Miami's Redskins moved into first place in the Mid-American Conference basketball race Wednesday night, although it took some help from Bowling Green.

While the Redskins were defeating Kent State 65-68, the Falcons were busy handing Toledo its first league loss, 80-76.

Miami and Toledo were tied with 2-0 marks going into Wednesday night's action. The Redskins now lead the pack.

Ohio U., which was idle, and Toledo with 2-1 marks are tied for second. Bowling Green, which had been sharing the cellar with Marshall with a showing of 0-2, vaulted into the fourth spot.

Western Michigan (1-1) dropped into fifth while Kent's Flashes slipped to 0-2 and a last place tie with Marshall.

The Redskins had a tough battle with Kent in the first half of the game at Kent and led by only six at intermission. But the story changed in the second half as Miami started hitting.

Jeff Gehring with 25 points and Charlie Dinkins with 20 were the big guns for Miami. Dan Norris had 13 to lead the Flashes.

Elsewhere, Dayton beat Ohio Wesleyan 69-52 as the Flyers broke a three-game losing streak. Big Hank Finkel, Dayton's surprising sophomore, made it a virtual one-man show. The towering 6-foot-11 Finkel poured in 23 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and was the only Flyer to score in double figures.

Wilberforce traveled to Defiance to post its eighth victory against a pair of losses. Mosses Lemon pumped in 28 points as the winners handed the Yellow Jackets a 96-86 setback. Paul Shahan with 18 was high for the Yellow Jackets, who now have a campaign showing of 5-2.

Three Ohio teams, including undefeated Youngstown, faced out-of-state teams and won.

The amazing Penguins picked up their 10th victory in impressive fashion, thrashing St. Vincent (Pa.) at Latrobe, 99-51. Youngstown jumped to a 15-0 lead and ran the show completely. Jim Timmerman scored 23 to lead the omp.

Texas, Wittenberg Football Coaches Honored At Dinner

NEW YORK (AP)—"You've got to get those bounces to win the close games," Darrell Royal said. "I just got the bounces."

The brilliant young coach of the University of Texas, college football's Coach of the Year, is the first to admit that he's no superhero in his profession.

"There were a dozen teams last season that might have licked us on a given day, just as we might lick them," he said. "Some games are decided by five snaps of the ball. The line between victory and defeat is a thin one."

Extreme modest, and a sound sense of values are the trademarks of the clean-cut, 39-year-old former Oklahoma quarterback who was picked by his contemporaries Wednesday as having done the best coaching job in 1963.

Royal was picked as the major college Coach of the Year and the man who once almost hired him, paunchy Bill Edwards of Wittenberg, set a precedent by winning the small college award for the second year in a row.

They were honored by a dinner Wednesday night at which they received the annual Kodak plaques. Also honored was the retired General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur, who was presented the first Tuss McLaughry Award given to an individual who has distinguished himself in service to others.

HOOP TALK

By . . . Double Dribble

And a Happy National Save the Pun Week to you all. . . Do your part to keep this great American Tradition Alive! Don't make any.

Ah, Friends, Victory is sweet is it not? The Quakers started the new year in a proper way by defeating the Alliance Aviators.

Lots of Hustle and determination had to be the thing that made this win possible. . . Plus the fact that the Quakers didn't rattle THIS time. . . Seems a little experience do make de difference!

Enough of the past; Salem has another Big Weekend ahead of them Facing Warren's Black Panthers (them again?) on Salem's playground Friday night and then the First, road game of the season, a trip to Boardman's Battlefield Saturday night.

Warren, although not as big as in previous years, still will be slightly larger than the Quakers. . . 6-3, 6-1, 6-1, 5-11, and 5-9 will be the way the first five looks, with a 6-1 sixth man on the side. . . Three of these boys played on the squad which trounced the red and black not once, but twice last year. . . If nothing else, that should help give the Salemites a fairly good reason for playing the brand of ball they are capable of.

Warren has a 5-4 record for the Season and had won three straight before dropping one to Canton McKinley 65 to 28 last week. Let's even up the record for them fellows, Make em 5 and 5.

On Saturday the Quakers will meet Boardman's Spartans at Boardman. The Spartans, with one returning regular from last years Squad will be out to hang a big one on the Quakers. . . If the rumors are correct, they intend to win and they intend to win by the biggest score possible. They own one of the biggest win records they have had for quite some time. . . the exact number escapes me and I'm too lazy to get up and look. . . but as I said it is one of their better ones.

According to my sources, Miss Que of English intelligence spending her vacation in the Youngstown area and the reknown informer Skee Wheeler the Boardmanites have been somewhat perturbed in past seasons over what the considered lop-sided scores by the Salem Clubs. Seems they feel John over-did it.

At the risk of sounding slightly nasty, and only if these rumors are correct, I think someone has made a slight error. At no time in my short memory has Mr. C. ever run a score, or failed to substitute when the game in question was out of the other teams reach. Whoops! I just fell off my soap-box.

Anyway, Quakers, I don't think they can do it.

Aside to you, Iva. . . On why certain substitutions are made by coaches although they have not made repeated errors. (at least those Obvious to you and I.) The coach of any team has spent considerable more time observing the players on his particular team than any viewer (and blood is thicker than water) some little sign we fail to see may be a note of impending disaster to him. . . Or maybe he thinks the boy needs a rest. . . Besides, a coaches mind works differently during a game than yours or mine. . . he's got more at stake.

Who Is the Question Man?

Democratic Veep Must Have Finely Etched Credentials

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
 Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
 Choosing a 1964 vice presidential running mate may be a more delicate task for President Lyndon B. Johnson than it has been for any presidential nominee in recent decades. He has some odd dilemmas.

Most leading Democratic professionals, including southerners, take it for granted that Johnson, with his Texas base, will pick a liberal — perhaps a Catholic — from a northern industrial state. Such states are expected to be his hard battlegrounds in 1964.

But many party leaders see the President's needs as much more special than this. Their views, sampled by this reporter in a check of states coast to coast, suggest he may be looking for a remarkable composite of youth and wide experience — with a clear line of inheritance from the late John F. Kennedy.

ON THE EXPERIENCE factor there is no dissent. The shock of Kennedy's assassination seemed to settle that issue. New Jersey's Gov. Richard

Hughes sums it: "I don't think the country will ever again accept a light-weight as a vice presidential nominee."

No such general agreement exists on the matter of the candidate's youth. Yet several veteran professionals were deadly serious in stressing its importance for Johnson in 1964. Says one: "There was a tremendous involvement of young people with John F. Kennedy. They feel a heavy loss. They believe power is back in the hands of older politicians again and they're unhappy about it."

A newcomer to the Democrats' professional corps goes farther: "If we don't come up with a young one for vice president, we're going to be in serious trouble."

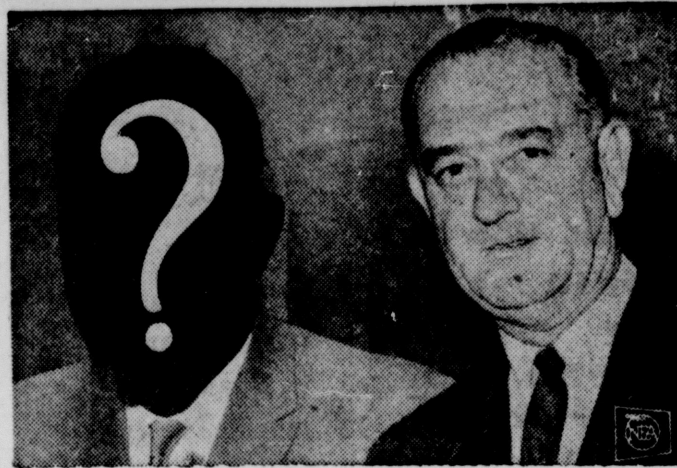

JUST HOW YOUNG is young enough, these party men do not make wholly clear. It is presumed they would prefer a candidate under 50.

Significantly, some Republican politicians who freely assailed Kennedy now talk about finding a youthful prospect much like him for their top spot next year.

Both parties are mindful that by 1964 some 5 million more young people will be of voting age than was the case in 1960. It is a rich market.

The question of a candidate's possible identity with what many political figures now are calling the "Kennedy tradition" may prove the toughest of all Johnson's dilemmas in naming his running mate.

The key to the puzzle is Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy. A Democrat of national stature says: "I would think the one marriage Lyndon Johnson has got to make is with Bobby Kennedy."

In this man's judgment, the attorney general is the inheritor of the late president's mantle "and no one else is."

TO SOME, THIS MEANS the younger Kennedy should be high on the list of vice presidential prospects. To others it simply means "He's got to be in the campaign somewhere," presumably in full support of Johnson's choice for the No. 2 place.

Robert Kennedy himself is as yet giving no clue to his future political intentions. They may take shape slowly but he can appreciate his special status, and the value to Johnson of his personal network of political contacts.

Studies of Southern sentiment confirm early guesswork: the attorney general's name on a Johnson ticket might cost the President a sizeable part of his evident heavy Southern support. Bobby Kennedy, even more than his older brother, has been a symbol to southern segregationists of the federal government's pressures on civil rights.

In the South and elsewhere, too, he served from the outset as a lightning rod attracting heavy charges that otherwise might have been directed at his brother.

THESE FACTORS explain why politicians disagree so strongly as to the specific role the attorney general should play next year. Outside the South, however, his importance to the

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Last week we had a mixup in our prices in our Wednesday ad. At least part of it was our fault here at the store. We are going to try not to let it happen again.

If ever it looks like we are trying to misrepresent anything its a mistake and we regret it.

As long as there are people there will be mistakes, but its a good policy to try to keep them to as few as possible.

This week our Country Store club member special is a full pound of Dan Dee potato chips for only 39c.

CHECKING UP ON THE STORES — Esther Peterson, President Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs, and her son Lars, 17, use slide rule to check on packages in a Washington, D.C., supermarket. She believes weights, measures and other labeling on some packages is confusing and sometimes deceptive.

Ohio Turnpike to Lure Travelers In Year Ahead

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP — Ohio Turnpike officials, looking back at 1963 with satisfaction, are looking ahead to this summer in anticipation of a bigger tourist travel boom than any the toll road has handled.

The past year, the Turnpike Commission noted, was the biggest yet in revenue collection on the superhighway that runs from the Pennsylvania state line to the Indiana border. It also was the safest yet, a report on accidents per miles traveled showed.

Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy reported at the monthly meeting that retirement of bonds which financed construction of the turnpike proceeded well ahead of projections. More than $26 million has been paid off, he said, reducing the outstanding debt below the $300 million level.

Revenue for 1963 totaled $26,850,000.

Seventeen members attended the meeting of Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night at the grange hall. Carl Bailey, master, presided.

Members discussed upcoming legislation and gave to one appeal for aid. A report was made on the bi-monthly officers meeting Monday at Highlandtown Grange hall.

Mrs. Harold Sebrill, lecturer, was in charge of the program which consisted of group singing; a talk about the work of the state grange by S. D. Bailey; two readings, "Weather" by A. L. Rudebeck and "The Life and Writing of Stephen Foster" by Mrs. Merrill McPherson; a poem, "A Romance of the Year," by Mrs. Howard Wilhelm.

Mt. Nebo's next grange meeting will be Jan. 22 at the hall.
